Student records

Information kept by Young Epilepsy.

Young Epilepsy may keep the following personal data and special categories of personal data relating to students:-

- ✓ Personal details
- ✓ Educational information
- ✓ Medical, therapy, psychology and health information
- ✓ Safeguarding information
- ✓ Social care information

This information may be held on computer, in our paper records or may take the form of video, photos or other electronic record, such as EEGs and telemetry. Data is always kept in an appropriately confidential manner with limited access.

The personal data we keep will either have been generated by our staff team or will have been obtained from relevant individuals and organisations either as part of the admissions process or during your son/daughter's time at Young Epilepsy. The records generated by our staff team will often be multidisciplinary and may involve staff from Education, Health, Wellbeing or Residential services.

Family information

Where it is pertinent to the treatment and care we provide to your son/daughter we will also keep some information on you and on other members of your family. For example, the family's medical history may be kept, where it relates to your son/daughter's health. This is extremely helpful to us but if you do not want this information kept please inform of us this immediately.

What this information is used for.

The information we keep on our students allows us to provide the most effective and efficient care and treatment for your son/ daughter. By reviewing any previous treatment or strategies used we are able to determine what care and treatment may work best for your son/daughter.

It is also important that we keep a record of the care and treatment the student has received. These records range from day journals which record a student's daily activities, to seizure charts and medication records. These allow us to monitor student progress and development. School and College also keep student work in order for students to obtain qualifications or other attainments.

Source of the personal data

In order to provide the most effective and efficient care and treatment for your son/ daughter it is essential that we have all pertinent information. This will involve obtaining information from the following sources:-

- The young person;
- Parents, family and friends of the young person;
- The funding authority/authorities;
- The referring authority;
- Former placement providers, such as previous residential placements or schools attended;
- Local service providers, such as your son/daughter's school, therapists and CAMHS team;
- Health providers including both primary and secondary care; and
- The individuals or organisations whose contact details you have provided us with, on our Application form.

Sharing information.Routine sharing

Sharing information is beneficial for your son/daughter as it helps provide a comprehensive understanding of his/her needs and development and also allows for all those involved in their care and treatment to be aware of the young person's development whilst at Young Epilepsy.

Young Epilepsy will therefore routinely disclose correspondence, reports and information with the following people/ organisations:-

- All professionals involved in funding the placement, which may include Local Authorities, Social Care and Health Commissioners;
- Your son/daughter's Social Worker;
- Other Health professionals involved with your son/daughter's care including their GP, any local consultants and, if appropriate, the student's Child & Adolescent Mental Health Services team; and
- Individuals who have parental authority, such as parents, guardians or carers. (Both parents will be given information unless we have been informed that parental responsibility rests solely with one.)

For all other non-routine sharing of information consent will be sought on an individual basis.

Review of records

Your son/daughter's records may also be reviewed by regulators, such as when an Ofsted or CQC inspection is undertaken. They may also be accessed by independent reviewers, such as when a complaint or other issue is independently investigated.

Legal obligations

We are also legally obliged to share certain information and in such cases will not seek your consent to do so. For example, all safeguarding concerns must be disclosed to the relevant organisations and individuals, such as the Local Authority, your son/daughter's Social Worker and possibly the police.

When your son/daughter leaves Young Epilepsy a summary chronology of all safeguarding incidents will be provided to their new placement provider. If your son/daughter is a Looked After Child (LAC) then his/her Care Plan, Personal Education Plan and the minutes of LAC meetings will also be provided to their new placement provider.

Data Processors

A data processor is an organisation responsible for processing personal data on behalf of Young Epilepsy. It does so under instruction from us and our contract ensures that Young Epilepsy's, the DPA 2018's and the GDPR's standards are upheld at all times.

An example of a data processor is Earwig Academic Reporting Limited (EARL). EARL provides software that allows our Education staff to more effectively produce teaching evidence, assessments and reports and to track individual student progress. In order to utilise this software we have to upload and record student information. Some data processors use anonymised personal data for their specific reasons, such as statistical, quality control, security, research or other purposes. Where this occurs, we can confirm the data is always anonymised and students cannot be identified from it.

The growth in cloud technology means that it is likely that the use of data processors will become more common. If you wish to know who are current data processors are please contact the Data Protection Officer.

Retention of student records

Young Epilepsy keeps records for different periods depending upon where the student has resided and the mental capacity of the student at time of leaving Young Epilepsy. The retention periods detailed below have been agreed by the organisation and accord with relevant legislation, guidance and legal opinion.

1. Students who have resided on a children's home

For a student, who has resided on a children's home all of the student's records will be kept for 75 years from date of birth. This accords with the Children's Homes (England) Regulations 2015.

2. Students who have not resided on a children's home, but lack capacity.

If a student lacks the capacity to understand the rights of action under the Limitations Act 1980 then all student records will be kept for 75 years from birth. This accords with legal opinion and the rights of action a student may have should capacity be attained at a later date.

3. Students who have not resided on a children's home and have capacity

For a student who has capacity at the time of leaving Young Epilepsy all student records will be kept for 30 years from the date of leaving Young Epilepsy. This accords with the NHS Code of Practice for Health & Social Care records and the minimum retention period of the Information Management Toolkit for Schools v5.

A detailed copy of Young Epilepsy's retention schedule is available upon request.

CCTV.

We have a small number of CCTV cameras on campus, for security purposes, such as by the Main Hall entrances and use CCTV in our Assessment & Rehabilitation Unit as an unobtrusive way to monitor students being assessed. Although it is not standard practice in a very limited number of instances live feed CCTV may be used in a student's bedroom, if this is the case with your son/daughter then you will be asked to consent to this.

All CCTV usage is approved by the Chief Executive, in accordance with the Code of Practice from the Information Commissioner's Office. Where there is CCTV there will be signage indicating its use. CCTV recordings are kept for seven days, unless an incident has been highlighted, in which case the CCTV will be kept until the incident is resolved.

Anonymised information.

We may also use anonymised information about the education/ care/treatment of our students for research (subject to Research Ethics approval) or for audit. It may also be used to provide training or for presentation outside of Young Epilepsy. Please be assured though that in these situations the information is fully anonymised so that it is not possible to personally identify your son/daughter.
